Four years ago David Smith, Matt Stahlman and Vlad Shuleansky co-founded Smokehouse with a commitment to honest, legal, business in an bureaucratic and often corrupt environment. In the time since they have seen challenges, battles and scars accumulate but their commitment to honesty and transparency is still intact. In the early days David kept a blog called “Open Source Entrepreneurship” or OSE. Today David finds it is most effective better to share the story in person and to help educate the next generation of Moldovan entrepreneurs and leaders in the reality of the situation, the many challenges, and the reasons for hope and excitement about starting a business in Moldova.
